CHRELI ABANO

For centuries, the sulfur baths of Old Tbilisi have been woven into the city's cultural and social fabric, offering a tradition of wellness unlike anywhere else. At Chreli Abano, this legacy lives on through an atmosphere where history, architecture, and relaxation meet.

Celebrated travelers and literary figures such as Alexander Pushkin and Alexandre Dumas were drawn to these famed baths, admiring both their restorative qualities and unique charm. Their connection is honored today through the historic Pushkin and Alexandre Dumas rooms, adding a layer of story and heritage to the experience.

More than a wellness ritual, Chreli Abano offers a journey into one of Tbilisi's most enduring traditions — refined, authentic, and timeless.
